After you've decided how much money you want to set aside from each paycheck and how you want to spend it, enroll in the plan. Then when you're ready to use the money in your flex account, simply swipe your take care® Flex Benefits Visa® Debit Card for qualified purchases. When you use your take care Card for qualified purchases, the money is instantly deducted from your flex benefit account. You won't have to reach into your pocket to pay for qualified expenses, file a claim and then wait to get reimbursed. If your provider does not accept Visa, you may pay your provider directly, then submit a receipt and wait for a reimbursement check or have the money deposited directly into your bank account.

Enroll in your employer's flexible benefit plan and you'll save $25 to $40* on every $100 you spend.

Whether its increased premiums, co-pays, deductibles that you may be required to pay before your insurance begins to pay your health care expenses, or the cost of prescription medications, out-of-pocket health care expenses continue to soar.

IRS requirement that affects Over-the-Counter (OTC) medicines

The IRS requires that reimbursement requests for OTC drugs and medicines be accompanied by a physician's prescription in order to be reimbursed under health flexible spending accounts (FSAs), health reimbursement arrangements (HRAs) and health savings accounts (HSAs).

OTC drugs and medicines will continue to be eligible for reimbursement from these benefit plans as long as the reimbursement request is accompanied by a doctor's prescription. This means items such as cough medicines, pain relievers, acid controllers and diaper-rash ointment will require a doctor's prescription to be submitted along with the reimbursement request. Insulin and other OTC items, such as band-aids, will continue to be eligible without a prescription.

SAVE YOUR take care® EXPENSE RECEIPTS

Whether you pay for qualified expenses with the take care Card or with personal funds, IRS rules require you to keep all receipts for expenses paid for with your flex benefit dollars. The IRS requires us to capture specific information in order for us to 1) approve a claim reimbursement request or 2) verify a purchase made with a flex benefit card.

There will be instances when you use your take care Card that you will be requested to provide detailed receipts to verify a purchase or expense. This may include payments you made for a co-pay that does not match the co-pay amount linked to your flex benefit, or for services received at a medical provider. This is because some medical providers perform services that are not qualified to be paid with flex benefit dollars, so the IRS requires us to verify medical expenses paid for with your take care Card.

Note: The information on a debit or credit card receipt and cancelled checks do not meet IRS requirements, therefore we do not accept them as supporting documentation. Acceptable receipts include: an itemized bill (a medical provider or retailer's detailed receipt), explanation of benefits (EOB) or other documentation from your health provider or health plan.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

What is the take care Flexible Benefit Plan?

It's a benefit provided by your employer that lets you set aside a certain amount of your paycheck into an account before paying income taxes. Then, during the year, you can use funds in the account to pay for qualified expenses with the untaxed dollars. You are not taxed on the dollars you use in your take care account(s).

What are the benefits of participating in a Flex Plan?

Your biggest benefit is saving payroll withholding taxes. What that means to you is that you'll save $25 - $40 on every $100 you budget to pay for qualified expenses with the money in your flexible benefit account. That's because you don't pay taxes on the money you set aside each pay period for your flex account. (Your savings are based on the percentage of payroll taxes you would have paid had you not put your money into a flex account.) Your employer determines the maximum annual contribution limit for your plan, which cannot exceed $2,500 effective 1/1/2013, per IRS rules. Confirm with your employer or check your summary plan description for the maximum annual contribution limit allowed for your plan.

What expenses qualify for payment with my Flex Dollars?

Most qualified expenses are for goods or services that you'll buy anyway. They include health care costs such as co-pays and doctors' fees; prescribed over-the-counter (OTC) drugs and medications; dental and eye care expenses; and day care expenses for dependents so you can work.

How do I pay for qualified expenses?

Your take care® Flex Benefits Visa® Debit Card is the most convenient way to pay. And what's best, you don't have to reach into your pocket when you use the Card to pay qualified expenses. By paying with the Card, your purchase is deducted from the appropriate balance in your take care account(s).

Do I need to file claim forms?

You only need to file a claim when purchasing OTC items or when the merchant or provider does not accept your take care Card. It is easy to file a claim. Just complete a claim form, attach a copy of the receipt(s) then send to your plan service provider. You'll receive your TAX-FREE reimbursement in a short time. Even if you use your take care Card, you are required to keep receipts. Occasionally, you may be asked to provide documentation of purchases made with your take care Card.

How does money get deposited into my account?

Through regular payroll deductions. It's that simple. Estimate how much you spend annually on the expenses that qualify to be paid from your flex account, then enroll! (See worksheet on page 6 of this booklet.)

How do I know how much is available for me to spend?

Your balance and other account details are always available online or by calling the Flex Hotline.

Must money be deposited in my account before I pay expenses or file a claim?

NO. The entire annual amount you elect for the Health Flexible Spending Account (FSA) is available on the first day and throughout the plan year. However, funds in the dependent care account are available only when they are deposited into your account.

I already have health insurance. Why should I participate in the Health Account?

The Health Account is used to pay for expenses not covered by insurance. These include co-pays, prescribed OTC medications, glasses, contacts, orthodontics, and prescription drugs, just to name a few.

I don't use my employer's health insurance. Can I still save?

YES. You can still set aside money through regular payroll deductions (before taxes are taken out) to budget and pay for qualified expenses. Remember, a qualified expense paid from this plan cannot be reimbursed from another plan.

I take a dependent care credit on Form 1040. Will this Dependent Care Account save more?

The more you earn, the more you'll save. In addition, you'll also save social security tax (FICA) with a Dependent Care Account. So don't wait until April 15 to take the credit. Now you can save taxes on every paycheck. Which is best for you? Visit our website and use our easy calculator to determine your savings.

If I set aside part of my pay, won't I make less money?

NO. For every dollar you set aside to pay qualified expenses, you save FICA, federal income tax and (where applicable) state withholding. Your net take-home pay will increase by the taxes you save. Plus, when you pay a qualified expense or receive a cash reimbursement, it's TAX-FREE.

Can I change my contributions during the year?

YES, but only in certain situations. For the Health Account and Dependent Care Account, you can change your election if you have a change in status or a change in your employment or the employment of your spouse or a dependent.

What if I don't use all of the money in my account?

Generally, unused balances may not be paid to you in cash or used in a later year. However, for the Health FSA or Dependent Care Account, your employer may have elected to allow you to incur expenses up to 2-1/2 months after the plan year end and use the remaining plan year balance to reimburse those expenses.

What happens to my account if I terminate employment?

You may request reimbursement from your FSA for qualified expenses incurred prior to your termination. Check your Summary Plan Description for additional rights provided by your employer's plan.

Are there any negatives that I should know about?

Because you may not pay social security tax on the amount of gross pay you set aside for qualified expenses, your social security benefits at retirement may be slightly reduced. However most tax advisors recommend taking advantage of current tax-savings opportunities like take care. Also, if disability insurance is paid on a pre-tax basis, any future benefits you receive will be taxable.
